

land, and Mr. Hudlow provided us with our herd and his farming skills."

"Mighty oaks from little acorns" is the school's slogan, and a creed by which Malcolm Adamson and his colleagues at Bonny Oaks have chosen to live. Their goal is growth.

And while the task of successfully instilling a misplaced life with pride and the desire to grow is delicate, its purpose is basic. Says Mr. Campbell, "If he ends up pushing a broom but loves his God, his family and his country, we're satisfied."
